Selected as a constituent of the ESG index "FTSE Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index"

Hitachi Zosen Corporation has been selected as a constituent of the FTSE Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index.

The FTSE Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index, created by global index provider FTSE Russell, reflects the relative performance of Japanese companies with superior ESG performance in their respective sectors. The index is designed to be sector neutral. In addition, to promote the transition to a low-carbon economy, especially for companies with high greenhouse gas emissions, only those companies that are recognized for their improvement efforts by the TPI Management Quality Score are included.

Hitachi Zosen Corporation has developed a long-term vision for 2030, the "Hitz 2030 Vision," and aims to solve social issues in clean energy, clean water, environmental preservation, and the building of prosperous communities strong against natural disasters. We are also working to develop human resources, including the promotion of diversity, and to strengthen governance. We will continue to strive for the realization of a sustainable society through our business.
